Early Morning Fire Razes Old Clermont Landmark

Clermont Harbor resident about 3 a.m. Wednesday morning, the fire was blazing and the house collapsed.

Paulk Jr., his wife and four children managed to escape the blaze with a few belongings and then their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mielich, in wetting down their nearby home with a garden hose to save it from the fire.

More than just a house was lost in the fire since the Paulk home had been made from the old Clermont Harbor Postoffice. Located on Railroad Avenue, it was considered a community landmark.

The Paulks consider themselves lucky that many who lost their home through fire since they would have moved into their new home on East Street off Favre Lane in Waveland in about three weeks.

"No one was hurt, but in another five minutes we wouldn't have been able to get to the children," Paulk said. The Paulks have three sons, Ronald, 11; Clifford, 10; and David, 6; and a daughter, Teresa, 8.

"Of course the children were very scared at first," Mrs. Paulk said, "but after the first fright, they were very excited and it was fun to them."

Paulk, an employee of Wilcox Electric Co. in Waveland, could offer no definite cause for the fire, noting that his wiring and fuses were in good shape. "I had heard flying squirrels in the attic several times," Paulk commented, "and they might have started it by gnawing a wire."

The Paulks have lived in Clermont Harbor for about two and a half years, having moved from Metairie when their home was destroyed by fire there. The family had insurance on the house, but none on their furniture and personal effects.

"Without any fire protection in Clermont Harbor, that blaze would have easily spread to the next house if the wind had been blowing in that direction. It got so hot for a while, you couldn't stand within 50 feet of it," Paulk said, rubbing an arm that was

City Council Urges Passage Of Auto Bill

Bay St. Louis Commission Council Tuesday sent a formal letter to Rep. Clarence Ladner and Sen. Quitman Lott requesting support of House Bill No. 50, a motor vehicle inspection act.

If passed the bill will provide for inspection laws and other regulatory measures insuring a better equipped automobile on the highways, according to Mayor John Scaffide. The bill is now on the House calendar and action is scheduled for this session, he said.

Stanfield Newest Certified Tree Farmer

With 952 certified new tree farms in 1959 Mississippi, already first in the nation as a tree farm state, accounted for 31 per cent of the new tree farms last year according to a report by J. E. Bryan, Perkins, tree farm chairman of the Mississippi Forestry Association.

Bryan listed V. L. Stanfield, New Orleans, as Hancock County's latest entrant into this field.

Cynthia Henley Suffers Injuries in Accident

A young Waveland child, Cynthia Henley, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henley of Nicholson Avenue is expected to return home this week after being hospitalized in Gulfport Memorial Hospital from injuries sustained in a two-car collision at the intersection of U. S. 90 and Highway 603 Sunday morning.

The child suffered a broken jawbone, extensive mouth and facial lacerations and had several teeth knocked out. She was riding with her grandmother, Mrs. Victoria Henley of New Orleans, in a 1959 Ford station wagon when it collided with a New Orleans bound 1932 Buick operated by Eugene Hardin of Baton Rouge, La. Mrs. Henley received a hand injury and bruises.

Hardin, 64, sustained a fractured right hand and his wife, 61, a passenger in the car, a fractured right wrist. Both received considerable body contusions and abrasions.

All received emergency treatment at Hancock General Hospital and were discharged.

Damage to the two autos was not considered extensive, according to a spokesman at N. A. Pernicelli's Amoco Service Station.

The accident was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Roland LaFontaine. No charges were filed, according to Sheriff Gerald Price.

Blood Drawing Set April 27; Donors Sought

Preliminary plans for a blood drawing April 27 were laid Monday night by the Hancock County Blood Bank.

Members stressed the importance of personal contact with potential donors and emphasized that the drawing is not confined to white residents.

In order to stress personal contact, George Heitzmann volunteered to assist President Eugene Dillman in visiting local Negro civic and religious groups before the drawing.

April Fool's Day--The Census Takers' Nightmare

"Yes, I have one brother but he is up at the university in a bottle," was the reply reported to have been received by a 1950 census taker while questioning a farm lad.

This year the brave interrogators, after four days of intensive study and homework, face the unhappy prospect of starting their once-a-decade trek on April Fools Day, leaving them wide open for snares of jesters throughout the country.

Imbued with the proper do-or-die spirit, the head counters, who in the past have even had to resort to flag pole climbing, will don their red, white and blue badges, flex their foot muscles, shoulder their pencils and stalk the wary citizens who for some reason or other may not want to be counted. Government officials state that the census report cannot be used for purposes of taxation, investigation or regulation but try telling that to somebody who may have forgotten to mail his income tax return.

Locally, 16 enumerators have been selected from the county. They are Howard S. Cox Jr., Mrs. Carol S. Murphy, Mrs. Jack Chevis, C. F. Mitchell and Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Marius Ladner, Clermont Harbor; Mrs. Eunice Ladner, Kilg; Mrs. Mary V. Stewart, Waveland; Mrs. Otto Rester and Paul E. Bounds, north county; Henry L. Otis and Miss Barbara Ann McArthur, Logtown; Carl Knowlton and Mrs. Ethel E. Reid, both of Rt. 3 and Mrs. Honores Seal, Rt. 1, Picayune; and Mrs. Berntha Jarrell, Rt. 3, Poplarville.

They will receive $12 a day and are limited to a total of $145. Old hands at the business figure they will surely earn it but all agree it is a lot of fun besides knowing they are doing something of value for their country.

One of the results of the census is to determine the number of seats in Congress to be apportioned each state. No other agency of the government is allowed access to the files, being given impersonal statements of figures only. Sociologists and statisticians are no doubt waiting for the tabulations with bated breath to confirm guesses that Americans are drifting to the big cities in growing numbers. It has been estimated that 97 per cent of the total national population growth has come in metropolitan areas.

The census takers will straighten out a lot of things but know they are in for trouble asking questions such as "Is there a bathtub in the building?" (Cont. on Page 6.)

Push Hospital Formal Check

An immediate inspection by the State Hospital Commission of the new Hancock General Hospital now under construction was requested Monday by the board of supervisors.

Dedication ceremonies have been tentatively set for April 30 and Gov. Ross Barnett has accepted an invitation to be guest speaker. However work on the building will not be completed unless an inspection is made immediately on hot and cold water pipe insulation now installed in the ceiling, the board learned.

A letter from the commission stated there was some question on the pipe insulation, noting the building can not be approved until the insulation is satisfactory.

Board President R. G. Hubbard advised Attorney Sam Favre to call for an inspection before Monday's meeting since work could not be completed until the pipes were inspected.

Supervisors agreed to advertise for bids to dredge and dig out the mouth of Bayou Caddy so that Shell Oil gasoline boats may use the harbor. Shell crews began oil explorations in the Mississippi Sound two weeks ago and plan to continue work in this area for one to two years, depending on the type of problems encountered.

Hubbard explained the board can pay dredging expenses from the seawall maintenance fund after receiving authority in a local and private bill passed by the state legislature about 1954.

Expenses were estimated at approximately $3,500 based on costs of a former dredging several years ago. The harbor has filled with silt and muck since the earlier dredging, Hubbard commented.

The mouth of the channel will be cleared approximately 40 feet wide and eight feet deep if the board accepts a bid for the proposed work.

Contractor Gerard Freeman of Bay St. Louis was awarded the scheduled repair work of the Courthouse Negro toilet flooring, recommended by the grand jury, at his bid of $72 pending confirmation of the replacement of the floor, tiles which was not stated in the bid. Bidding also was W. H. Miller of Bay St. Louis at $150.

After consultation with Mrs. Norton Haas sr., county welfare agent, the supervisors agreed to continue supplying commodities to the county's welfare recipients.

Hubbard noted that the Pauper Fund is extremely low now and the board questioned the possibility of deleting the commodity expense until fall when the fund will be replenished with tax monies. He added the board paid approximately $2,300 in February, and with the large number of people aided, the supervisors assured Mrs. Haas the commodities would be continued. Clerk Claiborne Ladner was advised to investigate shifting payments to another fund which would be replenished in the fall.

The supervisor agreed to transfer the Texas Flat Road from the state aid program to the federal-state aid program at the suggestion of County Engineer C. L. Mobley and approved payment of $1,028.23 to the Mississippi Forestry Commission for reforestation of 16th Section lands near Standard.

Big Backlog of Bills Occupies School Board

The county board of education authorized payment of the first batch of overdue bills after a check of its financial status by Robert Hoffman of the state auditor's office at a recessed session Tuesday afternoon.

Another session is called for Saturday morning to resume work on the bills in an effort to clear up all pending items and start a day-to-day claim docket next Monday. A number of bills had been held last fall when school funds were running short.

Payment of the lot Tuesday was approved on the motion of S. P. Powell, seconded by Lugs Necaise, and Superintendent K. G. McCarty was directed to insert the items in the minutes for future reference. Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, and McCarty have been going over the bills for several weeks to determine what is outstanding and Hoffman consulted with them last week. The bulk of those disposed of related to Gulfview School.

The board's tight financial condition occasioned members to note that Hancock is the only county in the area having a 21 mill rate earmarked for education whereas all the others have 25 mills, the maximum permitted. President Charles Murphy remarked that he expected a more favorable reception would be accorded a tax hike this year by the board of supervisors whereas when it was sought last year there was an election in prospect. "Some of the supervisors have expressed themselves right freely on it," he reported.

Hoffman told the board it could expect about $33,000 from the state April 1 as he discussed prospects for receipts. However, he noted about $41,000 worth of notes for transportation equipment and pointed to some $4,000 due on those since the start of the last fiscal year plus another $4,000 which will be due after July 1. He said he found the bus repair bills running extremely high, with which the board concurred, and noted that some other bills indicated to him the possibility of "indiscriminate" buying by some principals. The auditor recommended strongly that in the future bills be docketed as they are received.

On the motion of Necaise, seconded by Mrs. McDonald, J. C. Harrell was re-elected head of the high school division at North Central School with Culbert Lee as elementary head. They are expected to present some faculty and causing him to lose consciousness from the resulting crash. Drabik is said to have left the scene of the accident and was involved in another accident shortly after.

Drabik did not testify but was represented by the law firm of Morse and Morse of Gulfport. Plaintiffs were represented by Gex and Gex of Bay St. Louis.

Dr. Wesley McFarland testified he treated the Altimus' after the accident and both complained of constant pain. Under examination by Attorney Walter James Phillips he said they were apparently suffering from "whiplash" and nerves in the base of the skull could have been damaged. Altimus said he could only work part time and then had to be seated.

The jury, which deliberated 25 minutes, was composed of Hollis Jones, Charlie P. Jones, Victor Dedeaux, Alton A. Trivira, Oliver J. Cuevas, A. Favre Jr., Eddie Malley, Wesley M. Ladner, Casey L. Moran, Brulie Ladner, Herbert Zengarlring, J. P. Peterson and Thomas Lee, alternate.

Still Destroyed Near Bay; Pass Pair Charged

A 1,000-gallon capacity sheetmetal still was destroyed Monday in a wooded section about three miles west of Bay St. Louis by U. S. Treasury agents.

Oliver Lee Scarborough, 41, 214 North St., Pass Christian, and his nephew, Fred W. Scarborough, 24, 223 Martin Ave., Pass Christian, were arrested and charged with possession and operation of an illicit distillery, possession of mash and non-tax paid whiskey. They waived hearings Tuesday before U. S. Commissioner Irene Herbert.

Seized and destroyed by the agents were 60 60-gallon capacity drum fermenters, 4,180 gallons of whiskey mash and 90 gallons of non-tax paid whiskey, according to Fred Shanks, area supervisor of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax office at Gulfport. He was accompanied on the raid by investigators G. L. Lewis, H. C. Vidrine and David W. Doyle.

Senate Action Delays Meeting Of Seafooders

An organizational meeting of the newly created Mississippi Seafood Commission scheduled for this morning at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport has been indefinitely postponed pending Senate confirmation of Gov. Ross Barnett's appointees.

Hancock County appointees Alden Muffray, Lloyd J. Ladner and Joseph V. Colson were informed yesterday by telegram that the meeting had been postponed.

If Senate approval is granted Tuesday as expected, the group will meet sometime next week.

Settlement Approved in Weston Suit

U. S. District Judge Sidney C. Mize has approved a compromise settlement in the stockholder's suit against H. Weston Lumber Co., its president, Harold B. Weston, and other company officials. The suit was initially brought by Dorothy Weston Robinson, Birmingham, Ala. Other stockholders subsequently entered the case.

By the terms of the decree, signed March 19, the defendant corporation was ordered to convey to the plaintiffs, Dorothy Weston Robinson, J. Roland Weston and the heirs of Mary Howry, deceased, all the oil, gas and mineral rights now existing in one-half of the company's lands.

In addition the company assumed entire responsibility for obligations amounting to $26,700 plus all state and federal income taxes. In return the plaintiffs were directed to transfer to the defendant company 155 1/4 shares of stock of the company.

According to a deed filed March 22 the oil, gas and mineral rights to approximately 36,000 acres, from tracts totaling over 77,000 acres, and an interest in some lots in the town of Ansley, were transferred to the plaintiffs and their attorneys by H. Weston Lumber Co.

Of the rights deeded, one-sixth was to Dorothy W. Robinson, one-sixth to J. Roland Weston, one-twelfth each to George R. Smith sr., George R. Smith jr., Dan M. Russell jr., and Sam L. Favre jr., 2/81 to Virginia Howry Sowell, 8/81 to J. Fred Howry, 8/81 to David Weston Howry, and 2/54 each to James McClure sr., Herbert W. Fant and James McClure jr.

Launching Site

Last week's front page sketch of a proposed small boat launching ramp for Bay St. Louis printed in this paper has provoked much comment to us. No one on the Echo is a civil engineer and the sketch was not necessarily something this paper advocated. It showed the three stages of a proposal made by the boat landing committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

In general it seems to us that the proposal was a good one and the Echo certainly believes the Bay area needs a public boat launching ramp both for local citizens and for visitors. We would certainly expect the merchants of the area to concur.

The area near the yacht club seems near ideal, though it has the disadvantage of possible congestion with boats operated by yacht club members. Nevertheless, it is convenient to both fresh and salt water fishing and it is feasible.

Other than the question of who owns what land, a question involved in connection with the site next to the yacht club, this editor can think of only one objection to the proposed ramp. The first stage, to be abandoned later, has a single ramp leading into the anchorage area of the yacht club. This might endanger boats tied up at the club and would undoubtedly increase congestion.

Perhaps a different and economically sound solution could be found. Irrespective, we can only hope the Bay area has a public boat launching ramp before summer.

With the new four directional traffic light recently installed at the intersection of Beach Boulevard and U. S. 90 another recommendation of the county's safety committee has been accomplished and Highway Commissioner John Smith has had done one more thing he promised. Hope the commissioner hurries up and completes his two major promises to this county—a new road to Kiln and a four lane section of deathtrap 90.

With the possible exception of the church, Alcoholics Anonymous is credited with helping more persons having the illness of alcoholism than any other agency. The Echo is glad that a chapter has been re-activated in the Bay area. Plans are to meet for about an hour every Friday night. Further information can be obtained by phoning HO 7-6943.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I would like to compliment you on the fine write-up that you gave the proposed launching ramp opposite the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. The ramp and particularly the parking area and breakwater would really benefit the Bay-Waveland area. During the summer months I have an average of at least ten people a day inquiring about a place to launch their boats in Waveland or Bay St. Louis so they can fish the keys or go water skiing. We have excellent facilities at Bayou Caddy, but the majority of fishermen and water skiers always ask if there is a launching site in our local area. I think for the number of people who own boats in our area during the summer months the ramp and its facilities would be a fine incentive to spend more time in our local area.

Sincerely,
HAROLD A. TORCHERSEN

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

If the map and survey shown on the front page of the Echo of the proposed small boat launching ramp was donated that is good.

If it was not, who authorized it, who paid for it, how much was paid and more of all why wasn't the city or county salaried engineers and crew asked to do it.

Truly yours

County Agent Notes

By U. O. Swords

Now while the weather, which has been anything but ideal for the past winter is fresh on your mind, it is a good time for the dairymen to get started on their feeding program for next fall and winter.

The question is asked by dairymen how much hay and silage should be stored by my herd. Dairymen should plan to store a minimum of four tons of silage and 2 tons of hay.

Why spend a lot of time and money taking care of low-producing cows. The only way to weed out these low producing cows is by keeping accurate records.

SHEEP MANAGEMENT

Should you creep feed your lambs? This is a question often asked. Here is the answer from the extension sheep specialist: "Lambs should never be starved. If they are it is almost impossible to have them fat and heavy enough at weaning time. When grazing is not excellent, creep feed the lambs. Some producers find that continuous creep feeding pays every year.

The Lamb Pool will be held in Hattiesburg, May 2, 1960.

SOIL TESTING

Here are some pretty good reasons for testing your soil. It helps you maintain efficient crop production. Fertilizer used wisely is helpful in reducing crop production loss. If you apply the fertilizer "hit or miss" it can increase cost.

By following recommendations of a soil test you never use the wrong amount of fertilizer. Soil testing takes the guess work out of telling you specific lime and fertilizer needs.

For more information on how to take soil samples, see your local county agent. He will also provide you with soil testing supplies, such as soil boxes and instruction sheets.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Attention small farmers. You can have social security protection now. If you sold as much as $600 worth of farm products last year, you can be covered for social security. For more information about social security and you, contact your nearest social security office or field representative.

CORN PRODUCTION

Corn yields of 20 to 30 bushels to the acre are not economical. To get higher yielding corn, selection of good corn land is the first step.

The only way to make high economical yields is to start with the right kind of land and manage it well.

On fertile, well drained soil that is properly prepared, farmers can grow 60 bushels of corn to the acre for a cost of around 80 cents a bushel. This includes cost of land rent, labor, fertilizer, seed, machinery depreciation, fuel, taxes and insurance.

Do a good job of soil preparation before planting the corn, that is do most of the work before planting. If you do this, you considerably reduce the amount of labor needed later.

Boat Concern Sold

Rutledge Parker, of DeLisle and Pass Christian, announced that he has purchased the firm of Broad's Boats and Motors on U. S. 90, Bay St. Louis. Charles Broad Jr. will keep a business interest in the firm and will remain as manager. No change in employees is contemplated, said Parker.

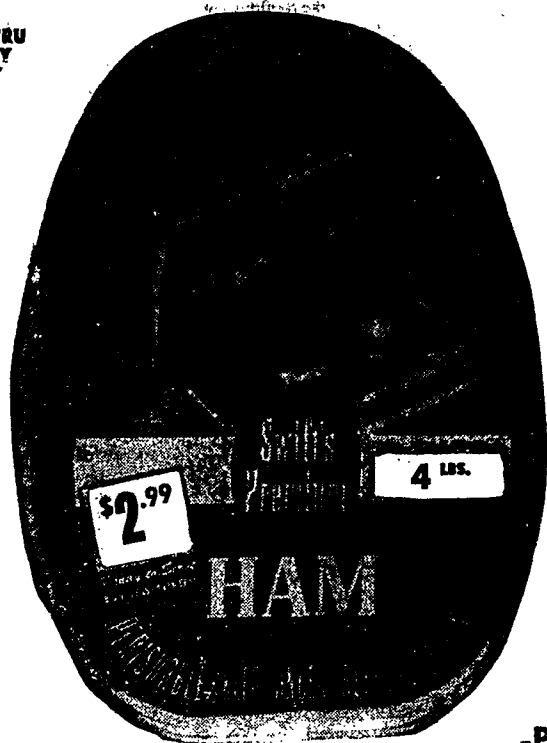

Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Parker of DeLisle, plans an immediate enlargement of business activities including enlarged stock, increased boat services and a boat company compensating station.

BEAUTY TIPS by Mercedes Spahr

BE A LADY. . . This year (thank goodness) the fashionable look for ladies is the ladylike look. Men prefer it, you know. Fragrant, well groomed feminine appeal provokes a man to kiss your hand - or at least think he'd love to.

USE RESTRAINT. . . Don't wear fluffy 'boyden' hairdos. They favor planned, sculptured waves that stay where they ought to. Restrained curls, placed where they soften your features, make your eyes wider, shorten a forehead, or lend a youthful look.

HAIR CAN BEHAVE. . . How to make your hair behave beautifully? - Start with a professional permanent - one of the new waves. A special professional "prescription permanent" that gets right to the root of your hair problems. . . and comes up with just the right amount of curl to please your own pretty taste in the matter. We're young but already famous for our permanent waves, you know. (Ask the person who has one). Have one yourself, and you'll be praising us too. For your beauty advice call HO 7-5202. MERCEDES' BEAUTY SALON, FOREST AVE., CLERMONT HARBOR.

Tarleton Named Pass Golf Club Professional

Dick Tarleton, winner of the 1959 Mississippi State Open at Greenville last October, takes over tomorrow as pro for the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club replacing Alex Cunningham who is retiring.

A native of New Orleans, Tarleton arrived this week from Cleveland, Miss., where he has been pro at the Cleveland Country Club for the past five years. He will make his home in Pass Christian with his wife and six-year old son, Mark, better known as "Ace" who is already showing interest in dad's clubs.

Tarleton spoke enthusiastically about the future of the Pass Club.

The new pro plans to install six new electric carts for rental purposes and will have a complete line of golf equipment.

Meanwhile, play at the course last weekend was the heaviest of the current season. One group came over from New Orleans and plans to return this weekend with 30 players. Members are reminded that clean up day at the club is next Wednesday and are urged to participate.

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

A bright, warm day Saturday brought out a number of fishermen but so far as salt water fish were concerned it was wishful thinking. Reports from some of our New Orleans friends have it that big specks have begun hitting plugs around North and South Shores in Lake Pontchartrain, a good indication that it won't be long before things pick up in the Bay area. All we need is some good, quiet weather and maybe a north wind or two to clear up the water. It is also still too muddy to see flounder.

A few brachyurus, or short-tailed decapod crustacea, were caught along the seawall Saturday, mostly by families enjoying the sunshine and fresh breeze. Won't be long before the callinectes sapidus start showing up.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The sports editor was dusting the old encyclopedia set the other day—at least we thought he was dusting. . .)

Green trout anglers who are willing to go far enough to hunt good water have been successful with flies, August Rauxet and Jerome Carver reporting their weekly limit catch of the black bass, this time in White Bayou near Pearl River. They went out of Jim Kelly's camp and August reports Jim's nephew counted about 25 nutria, most of them big as good-sized dogs.

While the nutria is considered a valuable fur-bearing animal, it certainly is not loved by fishermen and reports are that the county is overrun with the coypu. The animal is a native to South America and is known colloquially as nutria or otter. It is a rodent, dull brown with a gray muzzle and red incisors. Its nostrils are so that it can breathe when all immersed in water except the tip of its nose. Its call is like the moan of a human creature in pain. Under present laws it can only be taken in season.

Big news in the fishing world is the sale of Breath's Boats and Motors on U. S. 90 to Rutledge Parker of DeLisle. Junior retained an interest and will be manager (with fewer headaches). We are in the market for a rig and hope he comes up with a good one.

Sorry to hear our friend, game warden Randolph Bourgeois, had another heart attack. He is recuperating at home now and will be confined for at least two weeks. Hurry in here and get well, Randolph, Spring is here and we need you.

George Heitzmann and sons, Robert, 14, and Michael, 12, fished in Bayou Pistache Saturday and got a few perch but George says the bayou is so shallow now the boys walked across it. Nutria were everywhere, he said, and it was apparent that from eating the roots and everything along the shore mud from the banks had washed into the bayou, filling it up.

Joe Taconi hasn't lost his taste for mullet but has been reduced to eating them about the size of shiners, or 20 to the pound, son-in-law Tony Monti reports.

Blind Partners Tourney Held By Pass Women

Teaming to post top honors in the blind partners tournament staged during ladies day Tuesday at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club were Mrs. Walter C. Russo and Mrs. Powell Glass Jr. They carded a low net of 78.

Mrs. John David and Ann Liversedge tied for low puts at 13. Because of Miss Liversedge had already won this month, that prize went to Mrs. David.

Others enjoying the luncheon and participating included: Mesdames Tom McAuley, Frank Stevens, W. T. Johnston, Bert Stiefel, Johnny Griffin, Walter Gex Jr., Ed Perry, Cary Spence, Roger Sharp, Ruth Bondy, Jane Borden, Ed Holmes, Grady Riggan, Ed Arceneaux, Roy Grazzani, D. P. Witman of Miami, Fla., Marton Lichty of Waterloo, Iowa, and the Misses Maud and Julia Frye.

In other activity at the club, on Saturday, J. N. Meyn of Gulfport, made a hole in one on No. 17th hole, 183 yards. Playing with him were Allan Cook, John Twombly, Tony Ingressa, and Lewis Gussaria.

John, Wayne Necaise Make All-Star Squad

Hancock North Central added another to its long list of laurels Saturday by being one of two schools in the state to place two players and a coach in the all-star high school North-South basketball game scheduled for Aug. 4 in City Auditorium at Jackson.

John and Wayne Necaise, two ace seniors from North Central, were selected along with 18 others picked from nearly every section of the state. They will play with the South squad coached by James Johnson of Central assisted by Billy Ray Smith, Clinton coach. Clinton placed Doug Hutton and Don Turnage on the squad. Players were selected by the board of directors of the Mississippi Association of Coaches meeting in Jackson Saturday.

Rounding out the South entries are Jackie Laird, Bassfield; Hershel Adams, West Lincoln; Paul McMillan, Pelahatchie; Carlos Ray McDaniel, Collins; Gerald Thompson, Vintonville; and David (Bones) Jones, Florence. Alternates are Phillips Sudduth, Moss Point; Jimmy Doyle, Everett; and Larry Miller, Florence.

Selections for the all-star football squad to play in Jackson Friday night, Aug. 5, will be announced April 3.

18 Boys Sign For Softball

Eighteen boys registered Saturday morning for Little League softball. Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the Parks and Playground Commission, announced. Registration will again be held this Saturday between 10 and 11 a.m. at the ball field, Carroll and Dunbar Avenues.

Although not enough sponsors have been obtained to form a league, play will continue throughout the season under direction of the commission. Mrs. Tudury said. A director will be named at the next meeting April 6.

Enough boys between nine and 14 are expected to form six teams while two teams are being organized among the 15 and 16-year-old lads. Practice will begin April 10 and will continue throughout the summer. Work on the municipal diamond was interrupted this week because of rain.

Softball Play Slated April 10

The county's first softball tournament of the season will open at 10 a.m. April 10 on the Kiln Youth Center diamond. It was announced by E. J. Marengo, chairman of the newly formed profit making committee of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees, sponsors of the tourney.

Eight teams from Hancock and Harrison Counties will compete for trophies to be presented to winners. No admission will be charged. Schedules will be announced next week.
